

Master Syllabus

RET 2102 - Lab for Critical Care I

Division: Health Sciences

Department: Respiratory Care

Credit Hour Total: 0.0

Other Prerequisite(s): AND Restricted to Majors

Date Revised: June 2015

Course Description:

Lab to accompany RET 2101

General Education Outcomes:

- Critical Thinking/Problem Solving Competency

Course Outcomes:

Mechanical ventilation termination

Demonstrate skills necessary to terminate mechanical ventilation based on adult-driven scenarios and protocols.

Assessment Method: Locally developed exams

Performance Criteria:

75% or higher

Assessment Method: Performance appraisals

Performance Criteria:

Must pass proficiency evaluations within three attempts

Positive airway pressure therapies

Demonstrate the skills necessary to set-up, operate, and troubleshoot continuous positive airway pressure therapies relevant to patient scenarios.

Assessment Method: Locally developed exams

Performance Criteria:

75% or higher

Assessment Method: Performance appraisals

Performance Criteria:

Must pass proficiency evaluations within three attempts

Mechanical ventilation management of the adult patient

Demonstrate the skills necessary to initiate and manage a mechanical ventilator based on adult patient-driven scenarios.

Assessment Method: Locally developed exams

Performance Criteria:

75% or higher

Assessment Method: Performance appraisals

Performance Criteria:

Must pass proficiency evaluations within three attempts

Outline:

Positive airway pressure therapies

Mechanical ventilation management of the adult patient